The condition of New Mexico, would have become a candidate to succeed senstor A. B. Fall.

A Bad Condition.

The condition obtaining in the Democratic party in New Mexico today is the worst I have ever secountered anywhere. I fear the upshot of it will be contesting delegations from Chaves county. I besteve that the state convention, in that event would seat both delegations, with the vote divisied. The two clashing factions in this county will bring about such a condition as will keep a great many Democratis in profound diegust, from going to the polls. In our primaries, nearly 1100 votes were polled. I doubt that we will get as high as two-thirds of that vote in the election in November. The 'bull moose' Democrats are now in control of the party machinery here; they have named the members of the state committee and they will run things to ault themselves. They will add very little financial strength to the party, in the state campaign.

Evils in the State. Transfor Problem.

Hagerman is president of the New Mexico Taxpayers' association, which was organized September 1, 1915. He is also chairman of the executive committee. His slews as to the question of taxniton, the relation of disbursements to receipts are outlined in the New Mexico Tax Review, the official publication of the ansociation. first issue, dated February, 1916, dis statement is as follows:

"The New Mexico Taxpayers' association was organized on the first day of September, 1915, for the purpose of affording those who pay for the government of this state a medium of instruction and an organized on the first and it was the aim of its organizers and is the aim of its directors to keep the organization absolutely free from politics, and to give its members and all faxpayers an unbiased source of information as to matters concerning the raising and expenditure of the people's money and the conduct of their affairs.

"Being absolutely unofficial and all taxpayers an unbiased source of information as to matters concerning the raising and expenditure of the people's money and the conduct of their affairs.

Voluntary Work.

"Being absolutely mofficial and superited entirely by the voluntary aubscriptions of the members, and its need being unquestioned, its success, we believe, will be assured as long as it remains a non-partissan, open forum for the study and discussion of taxation and administrative problems. It is not the alm of this organization to criticise but to analyte. It does not propose to tear down but to build, and to destroy only as it offers well grounded substitutes and improvements.

"Carefulness and extravagance in the expenditure of public moneys, waste and inefficiency in the conduct of public business, have long been the desire to change these conditions is growing. There is an increasing eagerness amongst taxpayers to find out where the system where they find it is wrong, can be made right. There is a keen desire to learn, a wish to be shown, an insistence on knowing—wily.

*People Are Appalled.

In the state campaign.

Evils in the state.

Ely is honest in his opinions as to many of the state, and he is right about the remedies that think the succession of taxation and he is right about the remedies that will be required. I do not think, though, that he is a man having the strength and power to put the needed reforms into effect. I do not think his judgment is nound enough, and I do not think his judgment is sound enough, and I led not think he is a very good judge of political conditions, and much less and propose to tear down but to build, and to elective problems. It is not the alm of this organization to effect. I do not think his judgment is sound enough, and I do not think he is a very good judge of political conditions, and much less a political conditions, and much less and individual conditions. The sum of the character of least on the propose to tear down but to build, and to elected. I do not believe he would consider a nomination.

The man is our own party, a great natural leader, is John W. Poe, who has been talked of a great deal for the nomination for governor. He cannot consider the nomination, for he is far from being in rugged health now. Even if he himself should decide to enter the race, his friends would not permit him to make the sacrifice, Either one of these men would add great strength in this section to their respective tickets, and, if nominated and elected, would serve the state with bonus and distinction. Unfortunately for the public, these men will not be candidates.

"If McDonald and Bursum are the nominess, I believe Bursum will be elected. Further than that, I believe that he would give us the best and ablest administration that New Mexice has ever had. He has gained a great deal in following in the Pecon valley, since 1311, and McDonald's lose has been proportionally greater.

The people are moreover beginning to be appalled at the extent of file demands made on them, and in general at the comparative inndequacy of the results attained. At the same time they realize that improvements can not be brought about until the defects in their present systems of laxation, revenues and administration are discovered through a careful and dispassionate examination of our present conditions, a prinstaking and thorough analysis of our present as for an examination and such an examination and such an examination and such an analysis as far as New Mexico is concerned, is one of the main objects of our association, and in doing so we will serve not only the members of the association, but all the people of the state. The Taxpayers' association can accomplish no hing good which will not be good for every resident of New Mexico. This being true we ask each taxpayer, large or small, to become a member of the association as soon as he is convinced of the sincerity of its aims and the soundness of its methods."
